

SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

Just something to ponder over. It seems to us that even if you hit an animal, you are liable under the law if you do not stop and render aid if possible.

We can tell this here, because by the time you read it the "lid will be off." While his wife Betty has been visiting in the midwest, Carl Sanders has redone the whole house. He said it was just like stepping into a different home. He took out three walls, moved everything in the kitchen but the sink (and swears he would have moved it if he'd known where to move it!) painted, built cupboards and wardrobes, and otherwise is all set to prove he's had no time to get into mischief while the "Mrs." has been gone.

All the time we've been pushing a "clean-up" this spring, there was a regrettable situation existing in our own front yard. We were at a loss to know how to remedy the situation in our feminine way. Then a zealous yard maintenance man read our mind and burned the unsightly pile of brush. To added to our good luck, the county road maintenance crew came along and further tidied up the street. We could have wished they had either started earlier on Monday or waited longer 'til Tuesday so we could get in the driveway, but we challenge anyone to produce a neater parking now. "Clean-up" week is over officially as far as we're concerned this year. Just give us time.

Just about the time we think our birthday will go by unnoticed for sure, along comes one of the nicest. It began a day ahead of time with an office party, complete with cake. It was still "on" on Friday, with gifts from the family and another array in the room we walked into at the Carlsbad hotel, which was "home" for the weekend. "Happy Homer", a rag doll clown, was keeping a watchful eye 'til we arrived. Then on Sunday after we got home, a package awaited us from our "secret pal" which we acknowledge here and now. To think her identity must wait until Valentine's Day!

It's a small world. Cass called out a cheerful greeting in the heavy traffic in Oceanside Friday afternoon. There alongside us were the "Skip" Goodmans and Leon Sewells en route to the VFW encampment in San Diego!

And here's a "hot" one! Leona accidentally jostled the arm of customer Elmer McWilliams in the Fifth Gear cafe, sending a spray of ashes flying down the front of his shirt. The ashes were definitely not cold. Neither was Elmer. About that time Barney Barnhart, a fireman on duty or off, had presence of mind to douse Elmer with a big glass of water, which must set some new kind of record for speed in extinguishing a blaze at the "scene" of the fire.

Finds Loot Stolen Two Years Ago

Money and milk coupons stolen from the Centralia school Dec. 5, after Mrs. Clayton Strickland unearthed the hidden "treasure" while digging in her backyard garden at 9111 Hanson rd., sheriff's officers said.

Mrs. Strickland found $19.63 in silver coins and about 20 coupons buried in her garden. Sheriff's deputies said a forcible entry was made at the school two years ago when the money and coupons were stolen from the superintendent's office.

Visitor From Denmark Sees So. Calif.

Rick Townswick has had as his house guests this week his uncle, Herman Anderson of Dodge Center, Minnesota, and the uncle's niece, Miss Julie Anderson of Alfang, Denmark, which is near Copenhagen.

Miss Anderson has been a student at Grand View college in Des Moines, Iowa, for the past school year. She is preparing to return to her native land, and the trip to California was made by bus before her departure.

In the five days that his guests were here, Townswick was assisted in host duties by his cousins, Ed Hermanson of Buena Park and Carol Hermanson of Westminster. Many points of interest in Southern California were shown the visitors.

SGT. N. DUNCAN RETURNS HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Enjoying a 30-day leave with home folks is Sgt. Norman Duncan, who arrived in the states June 14. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, 9852 Walker st.

A popular member of the younger set, the sergeant was graduated from Anaheim Union High school and played ball on the Cypress Merchants' team before going into the service.

He served ten months in Korea as a machine gunner with the 7th Regt. Third Division.

Street Party Planning Gets Underway Here

Plans for the "block party", or "pavement dance" as it is familiarly known in certain parts of the United States, mainly the midwest, are going forward, according to Mrs. Ray Lucas, ways and means chairman of the VFW auxiliary which is sponsoring the event. Permission has been gained from the state highway department to rope off a section of the street between the railroad tracks and Lincoln ave. on Walker st., which is not in front of the fire station, beginning about seven o'clock p.m. on July 19.

Other organizations have been invited to participate with stands. So far the Cypress Women's Community club has indicated its desire to sponsor a pop and soda drinks booth.

The auxiliary is planning the affair in order that the community as a whole may participate.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hazlett, 8351 Moody st., and their three children enjoyed a trip to San Francisco, along the coast route. They spent the time there with relatives, then made good use of their camp trailer to sightsee at Yosemite, Bass lake, King's canyon and Sequoia. When they got home they bought a new Studebaker and are all set for more camping trips.

VFW Erects Two Stands In Cypress For Sale Of Fireworks Thru' 4th

Money For Rescue Truck To Co. Board

Donation from the Cypress Volunteer Fire department of $1000 Tuesday was accepted by members of the board of supervisors when they met Tuesday. Presented by Fire Chief A. E. "Pat" Arnold, the money will be used to assist in the purchase of a new salvage rescue truck.

Raised by the volunteer firemen and cooperating service clubs and citizens in the area, the truck will carry the resuscitator and salvage equipment for saving lives and property.

Two other communities made like donations of $1000 each at the same time Cypress did. They were Yorba Linda and Westminster.

Kiwanians See Midwest Trip

Bill Mitchell of Buena Park, again visited the Cypress Kiwanis club Monday night and showed the colored slides he took recently on a trip to the midwest. He also included several shots of Walter Knott's new purchase, the Calico Ghost Town.

The club welcomed a visiting Kiwanian, who came from the most distant spot any visitor has since the club was started. He was Roy Lineback, of Newton, North Carolina. Dr. Walter Cleveland, member of the Bellflower club, and Ed Logan from Buena Park were also visitors. J. E. Stogdill was a guest from Cypress.

Man Hurt As Car Overturns

Injured Monday when his car went out of control on Lincoln ave. a quarter mile west of Euclid ave., Leslie A. Allman, 31, of 5591 Sprague st., received possible internal injuries and numerous cuts and bruises. He was taken to the county hospital.

His car ran off the highway, mowed down three mail boxes and then turned upside down. It was badly wrecked, the California highway patrol reported.

SGT. JACK BROWN ARRIVES HOME; GREETES NEW SON

Sgt. Jack Brown arrived home from Korea late Tuesday night. He is making the acquaintance of a total stranger, his son, Patrick Harold, born March 20, 1952.

Mrs. Brown and the baby live at 5682 1/2 Lincoln ave. Sgt. Brown's parents live in Buena Park.

After a thirty-day leave at home, the soldier, who was overseas about a year, is expected to get state-side duty for the remaining four months of his service.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Olney, 8601 Walker st., are visiting her sister in Grant's Pass, Oregon.

Fourth of July season means just one big round of hard work to VFW and auxiliary members for several days before the holiday itself rolls around. Members of C. R. Rogers Memorial Post No. 9847 finished construction of their two stands for this year—one in a downtown location next to John's Shoe Repair shop, and the other at the west end of town on Lincoln ave. near the bridge.

One of the major projects of the local VFW post, proceeds are put into the organization's building fund. A site has been selected during the past year and a building committee has been appointed to work on details of the structure.

Larry Kelch, this year's chairman, points out that prices for the articles have not increased over last year in the VFW's stands. Other members of his committee are Harold Hall, Lee Shear and H. J. G. Kreissler. Mrs. Ruth Lockman is chairman of the committee from the auxiliary. Sales personnel for the seven big sale days beginning June 28 and continuing through July 4 will be volunteers from the two units.

P. O. Closing

Mrs. Ruth Pugh, postmaster, reminds patrons that the post office will be closed all day Friday, July Fourth, for the legal holiday. The windows will be open for business as usual Saturday morning, she said. There will be no mail delivery after the last mail goes out Thursday evening until the seven o'clock delivery of the truck Saturday.

If the ENTERPRISE is printed in time, box holders will receive theirs Thursday afternoon. Otherwise it will be Saturday morning before the papers will reach the subscribers. Papers are on sale at Henry's drugs, Cypress Beverage, Johnny's market and Gregg's super market.

Miss Strempel Succumbs In L.B. Hospital

Miss Bernardine Strempel died Sunday in a Long Beach hospital from an illness of years standing. She was twenty-eight years of age, and was a graduate of Anaheim Union High school. The family lived in the Cypress area for many years, most recently at the corner of Western ave. and Lincoln ave., before moving to 5872 Pavo st. in the Lakewood area less than a year ago.

A native of Trinidad, Colorado, she leaves to mourn her passing her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Strempel and a sister, Joyce, of the home, and a brother, George, of Honolulu. Also surviving is her grandmother, Mrs. Dora Strempel of Cheyenne, Wyoming. Funeral services were held Thursday morning at eleven o'clock from Mottell's chapel in Long Beach.

CHANGING PATTERN

A story out of New York says that there is a growing feeling that traditional retail store hours will have to be changed to meet the change in American buying habits.

Here's how it figures: More wives are working now than were employed even at the peak of war production. Hence, normal store hours are not as convenient as they once were for the family. The growth of suburbs, the time absorbed in commuting, also make shopping more difficult. Lower income groups have enjoyed a greater percentage increase in the pay envelope and these are the groups in which the larger number of both husbands and wives work.

Sales executives point out that husbands and wives like to shop together for "big ticket" items—furniture, appliances and the like. This means that they can't get around to look at such things during the usual store hours. So the answer, it is said, lies in adjusting opening and closing schedules to fit the public need.

Naturally, no one schedule is going to fit every community. Nor is a change in hours necessarily the answer in every instance. Public service should be uppermost, as for example, when the State's largest bank refused to close its many offices on Saturdays feeling that it could best serve the public convenience by remaining open. The experience of the past year has shown this to be true.

Granting that the customer is always right, the right thing is always to give him the chance to be a customer.

WOMEN — THEY'RE WONDERFUL

Talk all you want to about what men can do, but they're rank amateurs when it comes to the accomplishments of the fair sex.

The gals haven't moved mountains, to be sure, but two of them did move an ocean liner this week. (Try it sometime for exercise). Arriving from the East Coast on their way to Japan to join their soldier husbands, the ladies—both expectant mothers—found that the liner President Cleveland would be tied up indefinitely in San Francisco because of a waterfront dispute.

Undaunted, they took their case directly to the union heads involved. They explained that "it is necessary that we travel within a certain time to reach our husbands before we have our babies", and pointed out that most of the passengers booked for the voyage were dependents of military personnel or civilian Government employees. The hard boiled labor bosses gave in.

So, while men have failed to get other ships moving because of their disagreement, the President Cleveland sails because of the courage and determination of two mere women.

Maybe we're missing a bet by not having women as trouble shooters in labor disputes. Could be.

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

Some months ago, Mrs. Phillips called my attention to an interesting feature, which I now pass along to you. You will have to go outside of California to notice it, which of course is unfortunate, but you can hurry back! No matter where you are, in another city, on a train or a plane, in the lobby of a hotel, or in a restaurant, it will not be long before you hear someone mention the word "California." In a buzz of conversation around you, with no effort or intent to listen, it will be unusual if you do not hear someone speak of our state.

Perhaps it is the reward, or the penalty, of increasing size, or of the political situation, or of our recreational facilities; perhaps we should credit our chamber of commerce, or the All-Year Club. Unfortunately, this increasing interest, and population movement, has also brought us increasing problems: water, housing, schools, roads, sanitation, protection. Many of these, in one way or another, find themselves eventually in the offices of the California Congressmen.

Speaking of housing, an amusing thing has happened in our neighboring suburb of Los Angeles. The city, in a thoughtless moment, contracted with the federal agency, for a public housing project. As you should know by now, federal public housing, in a majority of instances, is expensive, slow, and highly political. Private enterprise can build more houses, and in less time, and without the federal overhead or influences. The expression "slum clearance," on which some projects are sold, is usually a misnomer; a city can usually clear its slums better than the federal government can, and at less cost, and more quickly. Sometimes all that is needed is the enforcement of building and fire and sanitary codes.

Well, the city of Los Angeles investigated, and didn't like the design of the tenement-like build-

California, And Still They Come

Population of Orange county reached 246,470 at January 1, 1952, California Taxpayers' association estimated today, an increase of 14 per cent from the April, 1950, census.

The January 1, 1952, population estimate shows an increase of 30,246 people in the county over the 216,224 population found by the April, 1950, census. It is also an increase over the 228,050 population estimate for the county for January 1, 1951—a 8.1 per cent increase. From the 1940 to 1950 census, the population of the county increased from 130,760 for April, 1940, to 216,224 for April 1950—an average annual increase of 5.2 per cent. For California as a whole, population at January 1, 1952, is estimated at 11,236,900, an increase of 14 per cent from the April, 1950, census. The City Council moved to withdraw from the contract. This was quite in order, and in line with a section put in the appropriation bill from my subcommittee, for just that purpose. The Solicitor of the federal agency, before the subcommittee, said the agency had no intention of trying to force a city to carry through such a contract if it did not want to, and that the government would only be interested in getting back any money advanced. In spite of all this, local enthusiasts for federal housing kept trying to force the contract on Los Angeles. On June 3rd the people went to the polls and voted by a majority of 100,000 against the federal contract. About 59% of the voters said "no."

I thought that was the American way of deciding issues. Now I have a letter on my desk, which the Mayor of Los Angeles is said to be sending to the Members of the Congress. Mayor Bowron, who for some unexplainable reason is supporting the idea of federal public housing (and I can assure him that federal money is not free money; neither cost-free nor politics-free), says to us that this vote is not decisive, because it was only 59% vote.

The amusing thing about it is that the Mayor himself has run for three times for full terms in his office. He has always given me the impression that he considered himself elected. In the first election 54.9% of the voter voted for him; the second time 53.1%, and the third time 53.5%. I suppose it all depends on the point of view. I repeat however, that communities will do well, before engaging themselves in a federal housing contract, to investigate carefully the costs, the federal influences, the political implications, the delays, the possibilities at hand for cheaper, quicker and better programs, and for the enforcement of local laws, and the growth of bureaucracy incident to all such federal projects. They will undoubtedly decide to solve their housing problems locally.

of 6.1 per cent from the April, 1950, census, the association said.

The January 1, 1952, population estimate for the state shows an increase of 650,667 people, over the 10,586,223 population shown by the April, 1950, census.

The 11,236,900 population for January 1, 1952, is higher than the 10,822,780 estimate for January 1, 1951, by 3.8 per cent.

From 1940 to 1950, the census shows an increase of 3,678,836 people in California, from the 6,907,387 for April, 1940, to the 10,586,223 for April, 1950—an average annual increase of 4.4 per cent.

Fifteen counties in California have shown increases in population of 10 per cent or more in the twenty-one months since the 1950 census was taken, the association estimated. They include: Alpine, Amador, Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Mono, Napa, Orange, Sacramento, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Sierra, and Trinity.

On the other hand, nine counties show decreases in population, the decreases ranging from 10.4 per cent for San Benito county to 0.2 per cent for Butte county. Other counties showing decreases include Calaveras, Imperial, Mariposa, San Francisco, Santa Cruz, Tehama, and Tulare.

Some of the decreases, the association said, result from decentralization of population, with adjoining counties showing relatively large increases.

Freeway To Offer Through Traffic By Next March

By next March, when the Santa Ana Freeway link between Todd St. and Lakewood Blvd. is completed, Buena Park motorists will be able to whiz into Los Angeles in a fraction of the time it now takes, according to State Highway Department Engineers.

By that time the entire route from Lakewood Blvd. westward to Aliso St. in Los Angeles will be completed and open to thru traffic. The link from Augusta Ave. to the Rio Hondo River will be completed in November of this year, the one between Eastman Ave. and Todd Ave. by next month, and between Washington Blvd. and Todd Ave. by next November.

With bids on the new link of the Santa Ana Freeway between Orr and Day Rd. and Pioneer Blvd. already being advertised, work is expected to start on the one mile section late in July, according to State Highway Engineers.

Completion of the unit is estimated for the summer of 1953, with the entire Freeway expected to be open all the way from Los Angeles to Santa Ana by 1954. The State has budgeted $3,381,000 for the 32 mile superhighway.

Another unit between Buena Park and Los Angeles, the section between Lakewood Blvd. and Orr and Day Rd., will be advertised for bids this summer, and when completed will allow through Freeway travel to the metropolitan area and the Hollywood Freeway for local motorists.

Highway Engineer officials pointed out this week that the Freeway construction is the Number One Project for the area, and work will continue uninterruptedly until completion.

SOFT WATER COMPANY TO OFFER FULL SERVICE IN CYPRESS AREA

Opening of the Culligan Soft Water Service of Orange County in Santa Ana was announced this week by Frank L. Golden, district manager of the Culligan Zeolite Company.

The firm will provide soft water on a service basis to Cypress and the rest of Orange county from its headquarters at 116 South Sycamore Street, Santa Ana. It will be managed by Paul Hacker.

Golden said the organization is completed and ready to provide city and rural water conditioning service. Although providing completely soft water is its primary job, the organization will offer a full line of other water treatment products and services.

The new firm is the only one in Orange county authorized to offer the Culligan Soft Water Service system, with its approved methods of regenerating and sterilizing softeners, Golden stated. With nearly 1100 outlets in the United States and Canada, the Culligan system is the largest in the world, serving more than two million people every day. It is back by 15 years of experience in the water conditioning field.

MERCHANTS NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO EDGE ANAHEIM

The Anaheim Merchants exploded for three runs in the top of the seventh inning to edge Cypress Merchants, 3-2, Monday night at La Palma park.

Anaheim scored its runs on two singles, two errors and a walk. Ed Bielefeld led off with a single and, after pitcher John Vuksonovich walked, Bob Thompson rapped another to drive in Bielefeld.

A popup and a strikeout got two out, but then Don Maxon and Vuksonovich and Thompson tallied when Don Maxon and Frank Perez were safe on errors.

In the fourth, Anaheim worked a double play with bases loaded to yield only one run, and Cypress gained another in the sixth after Tom Ritchie led off with a single and subsequently scored.

STRIKE DELAYS BRIDGE ON ORANGETHORPE BLVD.

One delay after another is holding up completion of the new Orangethorpe boulevard bridge over Coyote creek, at the county line.

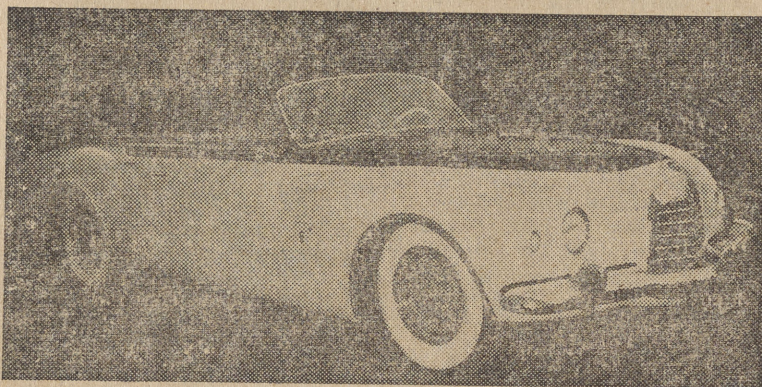

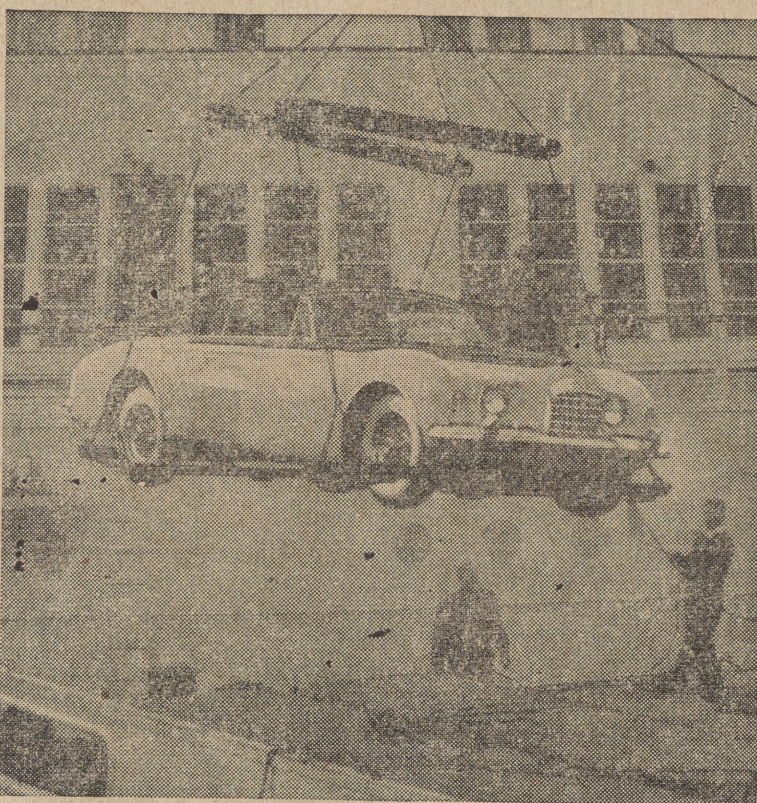

Road Commissioner Harold Sprenger said today that the bridge is finished after long delay, and all is ready for paving the two approaches, each about 250 feet long and four lanes wide, which will cost about $20,000.

Now the job is held up by a strike of operating engineers, said Springer. Orange and Los Angeles counties share the cost of the bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Milam Williams enjoyed a week's vacation camping out in Sequoia and Yosemite parks. He is employed at Douglas. They report lots of water in the mountain areas, making the waterfalls especially beautiful. In fact, presence of water in the form of rainfall drove them home a day earlier than they had planned.

INCORPORATION PETITION FILED FOR BUENA PARK

Another step was taken toward eventual incorporation of Buena Park this week with the filing of the legal description of the area with the Orange County Boundary Commission for approval. Favorable opinion of this group is necessary before the Board of Supervisors will consider the petition for incorporation.

Unofficial opinions from county officials indicate that the boundaries submitted will probably pass the Commission with flying colors since shoe string strips, jagged lines and cross-property borders have been avoided. The Commission will hold a special meeting early next week to consider the matter.

The committee reports that immediately after a favorable opinion on the boundary is obtained, petitions will be circulated to obtain signatures. In order to obtain a decision of the Supervisors to bring about an election on the question, signatures of 25 per cent of the property owners representing not less than 25 per cent of the property constituting the proposed incorporation must be obtained.

Murrell Carl Hastings, of Fullerton, was arrested on a reckless driving charge and for driving without lights early Saturday morning when a California highway patrol officer timed him at 105 miles per hour as he drove through a boulevard stop on Lincoln avenue at Walker st., Cypress. He is scheduled to appear in Anaheim justice court June 30 at 10 a.m.

HOWARDS REPORT

The Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Howard are expected home this weekend after attending the general assembly of the Church of the Nazarene in Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Howard had charge of registration and the Rev. Mr. Howard assisted the general secretary of the church during the assembly period.

In a note from them early in the session, they indicated the weather was warmer than any they had experienced in years and that they missed the ocean breezes to which they were accustomed at home.

Attendance at all conference meetings was good, despite the extreme heat.

U.S. Must Build Civil Defense

AIR FORCE CHIEF SAYS ENEMY
BOMBERS CAN ATTACK AMERICA

(This is the first of a series of articles on civil defense, based on the booklet "This Is Civil Defense" prepared by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for ten cents.)

By MILLARD CALDWELL
Federal Civil Defense Administrator

General Hoyt Vandenberg, Chief of Staff of the United States Air Force, has made a startling statement — one which most Americans find hard to believe. He had said that at best we could knock down only 30 out of every 100 enemy planes attacking the United States. That means that at least 7 out of 10 would get through. Despite our traditional attitude that "it can't happen here," we must believe these facts.

This does not mean that our Air Force is ineffective. We have an excellent air force and our anti-aircraft defenses are good. In the last war, the Germans also were well equipped with defense weapons, but they were not able to stop our attacking bombers. On the average, we lost fewer than 10 out of each 100 planes. That gives us something to think about!

We know that everything possible will be done to stop the enemy at our borders, and to prevent sabotage within, but we also can be sure that, in case of war, a good percentage of enemy attacks would be successful in spite of all that we could do. That is why we must have Civil Defense.

The wide oceans which once protected us have given way to global bombers. Today we face more kinds of attack than ever before, and our danger is much greater.

There is only one sure way to keep any enemy from knocking us out of a war. We must know how to save lives and property, restore our cities and industries, and carry on the fight no matter what kind of attacks are hurled against us.

Russia Has Bombers
Russia has hundreds of heavy, long-range bombers patterned after our B-29s which could get through most of our defense setups. We know that Russia has atomic bombs and that their heavy long-range bombers are capable of delivering them anywhere in the United States at any time the Kremlin dictates.

She can wage biological warfare for she has scientists capable of preparing diseases for use against people, plants, and animals, and trained secret agents who could spread them.

It is certain that she has the major war gases, including the new and deadly nerve gas developed by German experts who were taken into Russia at the end of the last war.

That is not all we must plan against. In some types of biological warfare fifth columnists could begin work without waiting for a war to start. Saboteurs too, could attack from within and wreck our defenses and war production output.

Hit Without Warning

All these enemy weapons could hit us without warning.

The outcome of modern war is not necessarily decided by armies in the field. Wars today can be won or lost on the home front. The home front cannot be hidden, and it cannot retreat—not if we are to survive as a free people.

Millions of Americans must be trained in civil defense before this country can be sure it is ready for enemy attack. Meanwhile, that attack might come at any moment.

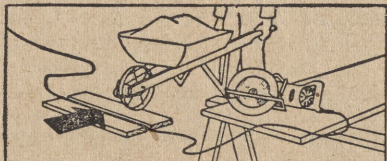

We have no time to lose in preparing to ward off such an attack. Your home, your job, your family, your own life may be at stake.

Civil defense is the sure way—the only organized way—for survival on the home front.

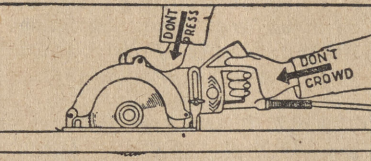

(The next article will discuss what is civil defense and how it can help.)

How to Do It—

Power Tools Deserve Good Care

Power tool cords can easily be protected. When a cord must be laid in the path of traffic, lay two planks close together and run the cord between them. Avoid kinks and don't lay cords over sharp-edged materials. Don't carry a tool by its cord.

In using an electric hand-saw, let the saw itself do the work. It's a mistake to try to rush a job. Don't press down on the top of the saw and don't crowd the saw by pushing it. A jammed saw overloads the motor, and motor repairs are expensive.

FRIENDS SURPRISE
MRS. R. E. LUCAS

Mrs. Ray Lucas was very much surprised Wednesday night when she opened the door at home, 5632 Vonnie Lane, to admit a group of sister members from the VFW auxiliary. Mrs. Lucas has been unable to attend meetings of late so the "truant" was paid a friendly "at home" to show she had been missed.

Well packed baskets supplied refreshments before the guests departed. Such goodies as albacore salad, potato salad, cookies and coffee found their way to the plates. The unprepared Mrs. Lucas scurried around and added pickles from her pantry.

Participating were Mmes. Milam Williams, Bea Hahn, Leon Sewell, Charles Daniel, Merle Jennings, Jesse Smith, E. E. Goodman, Castella Rogers, H. J. G. Kreissler and Frank Buzzo.

Harold Pugh is home after spending some time in the mid-west. He reported temperatures as high as 104, and was glad to get back to California and the cool nights of home.

The Rev. Clarence Eigenhuis and family have moved into their new home down on Walker street. The Hedgecock family moved into the house next to the Faith Tabernacle on Lincoln when it was vacated.

Miss Lois Swift appeared with the Santa Ana College Swing choir on "Your town's talent" Tuesday night. The choir had a guest spot on the TV show. They will appear in several television programs during the next six weeks.

Excess Weight Bad For Health Spoils Looks

Half a billion pounds . . . that's the amount of accumulated overweight Americans should now lose. Once a private problem, the bulging waistline looms as one of America's top public health projects.

While doctors are concerned about health hazards, there are other factors to consider. Appearance is of great importance in business and social life. General well-being should be considered for life is more fun when you feel well.

Doctors agree that massage and physical therapy are of prime importance in maintaining health and feeling well. They often recommend that patients enjoy the invigorating benefits along with diet and medicinal prescriptions.

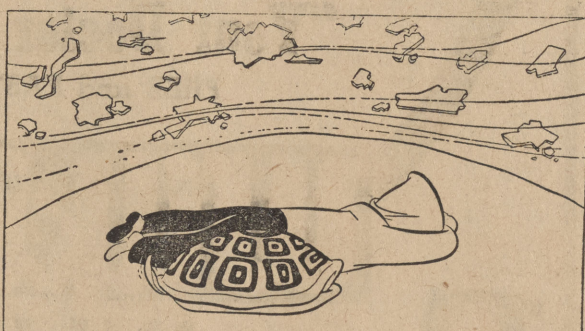

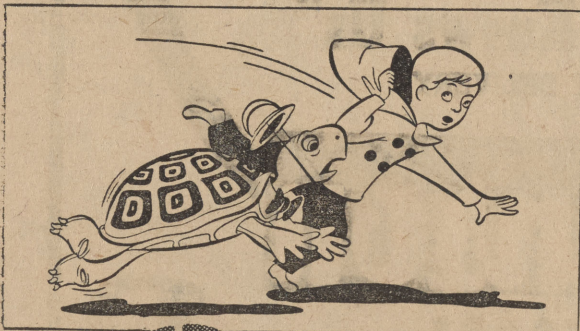

Charles Songer, a member of the California Association of Physical Therapists has been helping the people of Buena Park get well and keep well for many years. If you would like to talk over your problem, call B.P. 424 or visit him at 6341 Darlington avenue, Buena Park. Ask about special summer rates and trial treatment. Adv.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

If you are looking for housing ideas you might make some snapshots like this to refresh your memory of homes you've seen and liked.

Snapshots With a Practical Purpose

OF COURSE, all snapshots have a purpose—usually to help us remember something that has a personal or sentimental appeal. But lately I've been hearing about people who are taking pictures of things they want to remember for very practical purposes—they are, in effect, making photographic notes for future reference.

For example, I know one young couple who plan to build a house—one of these days. They are currently at the stage of saving money as fast as they can and dreaming just like the Blandings. However, they want to be very sure that this house is just what they want. So when they take trips, or even just go for a Sunday afternoon drive, they are always looking at houses along the way. When they notice a house that they like especially well, or that has some particularly appealing feature, they snap a picture of it.

If they want to make a close-up shot of a doorway, a window arrangement, or some other feature, they always ask the owner's permission. Of course, the owner is always sufficiently flattered by their interest that the answer is always yes.

So now this couple has quite a collection of architectural details mounted in a scrapbook along with clippings from magazines and house plan books. They don't have to trust their memories as to what kind of windows that cute little cottage has. All they have to do is look at the snapshots they made.

It seems to me that this is an idea that might be applied in other fields of interest. A few people are fortunately so talented as to be able to sketch adequately the things they see and would like to remember in some detail for future reference. But for most of us a simple camera offers the quick and easy way to make notes.
